

Each week we have chosen a theme for learning. This week's theme will be looking at the David Walliams' book Billionaire Boy. If you are able to get a copy of this book, that is great, but if not then please watch the BBC adaptation which can be found here:

Thursday Timetable:

Please see below for our suggested timetable of lessons for today, this timetable is designed to mirror what we would have been doing in lessons in school.

9am – 9:30am – Work out and exercise.

9:30am – Morning Zoom.

Lesson 1: English 9:45- 10:45

The things that Joe wants most of all in the story is a friend. Today I'd like you to write about what would make your perfect friend. Write in sentences, using full stops and capital letters. I have attached a useful sheet for you to use if you wish to.

Lesson 2: Maths. 10:45am – 11:45 am (over two days)

In Billionaire boy, chocolate features a lot:

Billionaire Boy - Scene 1

The Grubbs laughed. They snatched what was left of the Cadbury's Dairy Milk bar from Bob's hand and then grabbed his arms. They lifted him up and, as Bob yelled for help, they deposited him into the wheelie bin. Before Joe could say anything else the Grubbs were stomping off down the road laughing, with their mouths full of stolen chocolate.

By sharing chocolate out, we can divide it into fractions. Therefore, over the course of this week, I'd like you to access this series of lessons about fractions from Oak National Academy:

<https://www.thenational.academy/online-classroom/year-3/maths>

I have also included a workbook of activities and questions on this theme of fractions.

Of course, you can also practise dividing a real chocolate bar into fractions as shown in the Hershey's Chocolate bar Fractions book:

Alternatively you can continue with using khanacademy and complete the lessons set for you on here.

Art

Today, I'd like you to create your own piece of friendship art using the lesson I have posted on Oak National Academy:

<https://www.thenational.academy/specialist/creative-arts/friendship-art-specialist-wk5-1>

PSHE 2:30-3:30pm.

To have a good friend you need to be a good friend. Today I want you to focus on all your fantastic qualities that make you a good friend. What sort of things do you do for others, or could you do for others?

Then draw a picture of yourself and label it with all the ideas you have come up with.

If you would like to share anything with me from the day, please do so via email.

Joe
